Trotter Cleared Of All Charges Wins Divorce

Decision Rendered At Grand Rapids, Mich., in Sensational Case Exonerates
Evangelist—Judge Declares Charges Not Sustained.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Aug. 25.—Judge Dunham, of the Superior court today awarded decrees of absolute divorce to Melvin E. Trotter, superintendent of the Grand Rapids rescue mission and a nationally known evangelist.

He dismissed the suit for separate maintenance brought by Mrs. Trotter. He held that her charge that her husband had been unfaithful, and had treated her cruelly, had not been substantiated by the evidence.

Outcome of the evangelist's litigation will be read here with considerable interest. Mr. Trotter conducted a fortnight's mission in Danville last fall, this being held in the Ridge Street tabernacle and being attended by several thousand people. It was estimated that more than a thousand persons had been converted through the efforts of the evangelist, and the Rev. Hammontrout, of Tennessee, a big free-will offering was given the evangelist when he closed the revival here and he said that he would use it in promoting the interest of the Grand Rapids mission.

During the trial of the case Mr. Trotter wired to this paper expressing his confidence that the court's decision would exonerate him and give him a clean bill of health.

Business Health
Index Issued

(By the Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—A health of business index based on postal receipts of 50 selected industrial cities of the country is to be issued monthly by the postoffice department, in addition to the list of postal statistics. In amount of postal receipts, which has been issued for more than 20 years.

The first announcement of the business health index by Assistant Postmaster General Glover shows July postal receipts for the selected industrial cities increased 10.45 per cent. over July a year ago, while in the 50 leading cities of the country the increase was 11.62 per cent. The postal receipts of the 50 industrial cities totaled $2,164,441 compared with $1,959,547 in July last year.

Albuquerque, N. Mex., had the largest percentage increase with 40.59 per cent., while South Bend, Ind., increased 31.28 per cent. Trenton, N. J., 27.51 per cent. Topeka, Kans., 26.45 per cent. Pueblo, Colo., 20.49 per cent. and Tampa, Fla., 21.21 per cent.

Queer Friendship
Springs Up in Jail

A unique friendship has sprung up in the city prison between John Dix, the white bulldog, and Jailer Dixon's opposite, a handsome specimen which has been living in the jail precincts for several months and which has become thoroughly domesticated. The two animals may be seen almost any day disporting themselves on the jail grass plot where they gambol and show signs of real comradeship. The possum has a way of putting his front legs round the neck of the bulldog and with this stranglehold throwing the bulldog heavily while the bulldog is partial to the possum's ears. The two animals according to observers have never been seen to lose their temper and they are inseparable companions.

REVIVAL AT MOUNTAIN HILL.
A revival has been going on all this week at Mountain Hill Baptist church. Much interest is being shown and some converts have been made. The preaching is by Rev. J. D. Kesler, of the Ringgold, Ga., who last night preached a powerful sermon on "Simplicity in Wages." On Sunday there will be an all-day service—preaching at 11 a. m., 3 p. m., and 8 p. m., and Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. This will be "Decision Day" in the Sunday school. Friends from Danville are cordially invited to attend.

"Pay Up or Go Up" New Court Slogan

Council Finance Committee and Commissioners Put an End to Payment of Police Court Fines in Intall-ment System.

"Pay up or go up." This will be the slogan at the Mayor's court on October 1, when the council finance committee and the police commissioners expect to have in operation a modern method of book-keeping which was formally adopted at a joint session of those bodies yesterday.

The action taken yesterday spells finale to the custom in vogue here for many years whereby offenders fined for breaches of the law are allowed to make partial payment of their fine and to pay the balance in installments usually on pay day. It will also put an end to the police department being made a collecting agency and the calling of patrolmen to see such and such offender and ask him for a remittance.

The new method promises to put a new meaning on court discipline. If a speeder, for instance, is convicted and fined $10 and costs, he will have to pay the full amount into court, receive a receipt for the amount and if he is unable to pay it he will have to go to jail. This will be in keeping with the strict letter of the law. The local authorities, however, show a disposition to be less drastic and it is likely that persons fined will be allowed 24 hours in which to produce the money by the continuation of the charge against them until the following day.

The commissioners and the finance committee went exhaustively into police court book-keeping yesterday and there was complete acquiescence in the plan suggested by the city auditor who recently made a study of the subject in several different cities.

Now that the new plan has been adopted the finance committee will ask the council to create a new city officer, that is to say a clerk of the police court who will be chosen by the finance committee and who will handle all of the police court accounts as well as the record of that department. It has not been determined who this man will be but he will be an experienced book-keeper and a man with distinct clerical knowledge. The new officer will have added use if he is a stenographer for there is constant use for such in the courthouse.

The equipment will be purchased at an early date and the city auditor will superintend the putting of the new method into actual practice.

At the conference yesterday the method of imposing fines was discussed. The city auditor suggested that when a fine is imposed that it should represent the total amount to be paid by the defendant and that the costs should not be thereafter added but taken out of the amount assessed by the court. This plan, however, was not adopted and instead the present method will be followed. A fine of $10 does not necessarily mean that this is the sum total to be paid by the offender. Sometimes the additional costs doubles the total amount to be paid. For instance, in the case of a conviction under the Mapp act, the offender will have to pay not only the sum assessed by the mayor but also the fee claimed by the mayor, the commonwealth's attorney, the policemen making the arrest, the clerk of the Corporation court, the jail fee and the fee assessed for the use of the vehicle used in removing the arrested person to the courthouse. The motive of the city auditor was for the court to set the full amount to be paid and for the costs to be deduced from that amount.

The adoption of the new plan will probably mean that more people are going to jail or persons proceeded against will appear in police court with a roll ready to liquidate their assessment. It will not mean that one or a few arrests are issued against any person. It will be necessary for the person to appear in court personally. He or she will not be permitted to send word to the court by a policeman expressing readiness to meet any fine the court may impose as is often done. In many instances persons sensitive about appearing in court will tell the arresting officer that they are ready to submit, asking them to let them know how much the fine is.

The process of issuing receipts at the time of trial promises to extend the daily session of the police court and it will require at least two men in the courtroom to make out statements of fines and costs and the giving and taking of receipts and count of receipts.

District Attorney James refused to accept detectives to the case until he has made a private investigation.

Election Contest Unlikely to Be Pushed Just Now

By GEORGE H. MANNING
(Washington Correspondent of The Danville Bee.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 25.—It is highly improbable that the House will, after the November elections, take up the election contest of John Paul, republican, against Congressman Thomas W. Harrison, democrat, to gain the seat in the House for the Seventh Virginia district.

That was the impression gained by John Paul at a conference held here yesterday with Chairman Dallinger, of the House Elections Committee. The same impression was gained also by Congressman Harrison, the contestee, and Congressman Slemp, who have talked the matter over with Dallinger recently.

The vote on this question in the House is going to be strictly along party lines and as the republicans, with a large number of their members out campaigning, can not depend upon having a majority on hand at any time before the November elections, it is very doubtful that the elections committee will take the matter before the House before then.

After leaving the contest in hand about 15 months the republican members of the House Elections Committee brought in a report about three months ago declaring John Paul to have been duly elected. The democratic members of the committee brought in a unanimous report asserting Harrison was elected.

Meanwhile another election will be held in the Seventh district in November at which Harrison and Paul will again be the candidates, and Harrison is expected to "swamp" John Paul, because the democratic are wrought up and fully determined to show the vote this November that the verdict of the House Elections Committee was a plain "political steal" not warranted by the facts and evidence in the contest hearings.

Outcome of the evangelist's litigation will be read here with considerable interest. Mr. Trotter conducted a fortnight's mission in Danville last fall, this being held in the Ridge Street tabernacle and being attended by several thousand people. Passage of the new method will be followed by a plan to have the new officer superintend the putting of the new method into actual practice.

Passion Play Is Desecrated By Show of Greed

Pope Signifies His Disapproval of Mercenary Surroundings Which Have Destroyed Sanctity of the Classic.

NTW YORK, Aug. 25.—The New York World prints the following interesting copyrighted cable from Munich announcing the Papal ban of the Oberammergau Passion Play:

"The girls declared they had been swindled and that they would not have come to Oberammergau but for the privilege of being billeted in Lang's home. Similar scenes staged by disgruntled workers occur daily, and some of them in which the religious figure are justified to the hilt by the disgraceful overcharging and dual sale of seats at the performances and of reservations at the hotels.

One may be permitted the reverent thought that if Christ came to Oberammergau His wrath would be greater by far than that which He displayed when He drove the money-changers from the Temple. At all events, Pope Plus reasons so seemingly.

The probability is that the play will be presented in 1932—it is given every tenth year—behind closed doors to orders of monks and nuns and other privileged audiences, who will pay purely nominal charges out of which the cost of presenting the play will be defrayed. This is the original idea of this dramatic representation of the sufferings of Christ, but the Passion Play of 1932 is raking in thousands in amounts beyond the dreams of the most successful theatrical producer of Manhattan.

There has been much learned dispute over the origin of the Passion Play, from which emerges the fact that it is not a survival of a mediaeval mystery or miracle play. It took its rise from a vow made by the inhabitants of Oberammergau in 1633, with the hope of staying a plague then reigning.

The original text and arrangements were made probably by the monks of Etal, a nearby monastery, but they were not well cared for by the parish priest of the beginning of the present century, when the play obtained exemption from the general suppression of such performances by the Bavarian Government. The music was composed by Rochus Dodler, schoolmaster of the parish in 1814.

The performances have already taken place on a Sunday in summer each lasts about nine hours, with a short intermission at noon. About 700 actors are needed, all of whom belong to the village. Most of the principal parts have been hereditary in certain families and have been assigned with regard to moral character.

The content of the play today with its profiteering and all tinge of sacred sentiment about it has vanished.

It was the last straw when a group of tourist girls clamored for seats at the performances which greedily speculators have already cornered.

Besides, all manner of new taxes and extra charges are made, opportunely, as the mark drops steadily.

The whole atmosphere surrounding the play has become profiteering and post-war profiteering, and all tinge of sacred sentiment about it has vanished.

It was the last straw when a group of tourist girls clamored for admission to the pension presided over by Anton Lang, who takes the part of Christ in the play, a part which once was looked upon as one of the greatest earthly honors.

Will Elect Queen Of Danville Fair

A new and interesting feature of the Danville Fair and one which promises to attract wide attention and interest is the plan to elect and crown Queen of the Fair and also to select two maids of honor, thus making the two leading competitors of the successful young lady for Queen.

The privilege of voting for the queen and her maids of honor, persons carrying with them social prominence and taste of popularity, will be acquired with the purchase of a ticket of admission. The voting contest for the two maids of honor will continue through the Fair until Friday, when the result will be announced and the queen will be crowned with regal splendor and ceremony.

It is at least temporarily planned to have Pittsylvania county divided into two districts, while Henry and Halifax, Caswell, Person and Rockingham counties will constitute one district each. Nominations for the honor of queen of the carnival may be made through public announcement by the friends of the ladies placed in nomination according to tentative plans, and it may be that nominations may be made by writing the announcement to Secretary H. B. Watkins, of the Danville Fair association.

It is especially desired that each of the counties name and the city of Danville shall put forward one or more nominees for queen, in which case a spirited rivalry is anticipated.

Such a feature will be the climax of Fair week and the interest in the contest and in the ceremonial attending the coronation is expected to attract a record crowd for the closing day and evening of the four days' exhibitions. Many residents will recall the intensely interesting contest for queen of the Elks' Carnival in this city twenty-two years ago, when a trio of the city's most popular and admired young ladies participated in the trial of popularity. It is confidently believed that such a contest will grow in interest as the Fair progresses and reach its climax on Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George Anderson and children and Mrs. Jess Anderson have returned to the city after a short visit to parents at Kinston, Va.

Facing On Temple On Main Street Now Completed

The terra cotta facing on the main street front of the ten-story office building and Masonic temple has been completed and the scaffolding which concealed the ornate cornice and facings of the tenth story was removed, thus affording an unobstructed view of the front of the building as it will appear. At the same time the terra cotta exterior on the long Union street side of the structure is also nearing completion, and this, too, will soon be open to unobstructed view.

While there is yet much interior work to be done and some on the exterior, including the copper section over the windows of the second floor, there is a definite hope that this building will be ready for occupancy by the end of the current year. It may be that the blue lodge chapter and commandery will not have received and installed their massive and ornate furniture by the end of the year, but with four months intervening there is yet a hopeful prospect that the Roman Eagle lodge may celebrate St. John the Evangelist Day, December 27th in its new and permanent quarters. Leases are now just being closed by the three Masonic bodies on the lodge room, chapter room and commandery asylum, and with this necessary formally disposed of, the various bodies may press their plans for the furnishing and equipment of the Masonic Building corporation, leasing only the bare room. Lighting fixtures and glass will be installed by the Masonic bodies.

During the ensuing four months the work on the interior in which good progress has already been made can be pressed every day and in an unusual manner.

Leases are being constructed to suit the wishes and convenience of lessees, and a larger percentage of the available offices have already been leased. It seems to be reasonably assured that all of the offices—some 188 in all—will be leased soon after the temple is opened, and as soon as prospective tenants have lived out their leases elsewhere. The stores, both on the main and Union street sides, have been leased and as soon as possible the lessees will remove their store fixtures and goods into them.

The ninth and tenth floors will derive a maximum rental of about $3,800 per year, but this is exclusive of the rent of the spacious dining hall and the auditorium which will seat 500 persons.

Magistrate Takes Stand By Sleuths

An unexpected development in the now famous Gretna incident came last night when the Register received from Magistrate R. C. Colle a signed statement, given below in which he admits that the court was given over to the lawless element and that the article appearing in the Register giving the first account of the affair was "absolutely correct".

The significant part of the statement is the fact that Magistrate Colle was one of the two justices who presided at the hearing when Ollie Ramsey and others were arraigned for violating the Mapp Act. Magistrate Colle's statement in which a grand jury investigation is asked, is as follows:

Chambersburg, Va., Aug. 24, 1922.

Magistrate R. C. Colle.

Having become tired and disgusted with being approached by people asking for my version of the Gretna demonstration on Monday, August 21st, at which time I was examining Ollie Ramsey upon a charge of violating the prohibition laws, I wish to say the following:

"That the article as published in the Register of August 22nd was in substance absolutely correct. To say it was a reflection upon the court who presided at that place and all the officers who were present is putting it to the public very mildly. And to let it pass at this stage without a grand jury investigation is in itself an acknowledgement by the justice who sat at that hearing and the officers who were present that we have lied."

"I think the good people of Chambersburg will bear me out when I say that as Justice of this court for the past three years I have been very active in the enforcement of the prohibition laws, but I must confess that on August 21st, 1922, at Gretna, Va., I was forced to yield to the lawless element who predominated and my office ceased to function."

"If the law abiding people of this county don't raise in their might and assist in the prosecution of this lawless conduct I say 'God save the Commonwealth'."

Trusty Makes His Getaway

been done to Ollie Ramsey and to the good name of their town.

One of the most interesting facts brought out at the informal hearing here today related to the payment of the hotel bills of Detectives Thompson and Dunn, and Dunn's wife. During the stay of the three in Gretna, they had rooms at the Virginia hotel, Owen S. Bird, proprietor. When they left hurriedly Monday afternoon they failed to pay their hotel bill. The bill of $67.75 was later paid by Ben R. Powell of Gretna, who had previously worked for the detectives.

Whether Powell, who settled for the trio's bill, was also responsible for getting the private detectives to come to Gretna to work up liquor cases is not known. However, this phase of the situation has been the cause for much comment and speculation.

According to the evidence adduced at the informal hearing today, Thompson and Dunn, under the name of Davis, and Dunn's wife went to Gretna about two weeks ago and immediately put up at the Virginia hotel. The two men and later the woman began to mix with various men of the town and the surrounding country. They are said to have drunk freely with a number of men, and Dunn is said to have been seen under the influence of liquor on several occasions. It is said that considerable liquor was consumed in the trio's rooms at the hotel. So bad did this become that Mr. Bird started to the reporter here today that he had to ask the two private detectives to call a halt in the drinking. On another occasion the two men went to J. D. Hunt's store at Bright's and there drank with several men.

While there was speculation as to the business of the two brothers, who said their name as Davis, there was no particular suspicion that there was liquor investigations except in a gaudatory way.

Last Sunday W. T. Shelton, State Prohibition Agent of Danville, and Magistrate R. C. Colle of Chatham, came to Gretna. Warrants were issued out by Shelton and issued by Magistrate Colle for the following men: Lang S. Rorer, Perrow Rorer and Guy Rorer on one warrant, and for D. W. Hunt, Ollie Edwards and Ollie Ramsey on another warrant. On this last warrant the name of Ollie Ramsey had been partially erased before it was served on the other two. This warrant was never served on Ramsey, but later a third warrant was sworn out against Ramsey. All of these warrants charged bootlegging.

W. T. Shelton, who swore out these warrants, was quoted by several citizens of Gretna yesterday as saying that he had been reluctant to swear out a warrant against Ramsey because he did not believe him to be guilty of the charge, but that he had sworn it out finally at the insistence of Detectives Thompson and Dunn.

Before the ceremony Mrs. S. M. Bason sang "O Promise Me," accompanied on the organ by Miss Helen Misenheimer, of Winston-Salem. As the wedding march from "Lohengrin," the bridal party entered. After the ushers, A. M. McGuire and J. N. Slaughter, came the bridesmaids, Misses Helen Florance and Emma Mitchell, wearing black lace dresses and large hats and carrying shower bouquets of pink roses and asters. Then came the groomsmen, W. M. Burton and A. L. Florance. The maid-of-honor, Miss Edna McGuire, sister of the bride, entered from the left aisle. She wore a sunburst taffeta gown with large white hat and carried a bouquet of pink carnation roses. The ring bearer, little Miss Billy Pope, wore a lovely white organdy dress and carried the ring in a large white rose. The little flower girls, Katherine Mallory and Frances Dodson, wearing daintily little pink organdy dresses, preceded the bride, scattering rose petals in her path.

The bride was unusually lovely in her handsome goings-away suit of pale tricotine with grey accessories. She carried a bouquet of bride roses and valley lilies, showered with swansons. The bride entered with her brother, Neal McGuire, of Winston-Salem, who gave her in marriage. The two were met at the alter by the groom and his best man, C. M. Ramsey, of Durham. The impressive ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Frazee, pastor of the church while "Hearts are True" was softly played on the organ by Miss Misenheimer. Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple motored to Danville from which place they left for a trip through western North Carolina.

Miss Hock is an attractive and accomplished young woman, she was educated at Elon College and is a graduate nurse of Wait's Hospital, Durham, having done private nursing in Durham for the past two years. Mr. Hock is a graduate of Trinity College, having graduated with honors in the class 1921-1922. He is to be principal of the graded school at Bailey this school term.

who testified that he and two other were present at the sale and that $10.00 was the amount paid to Ramsey for the liquor. Thompson was asked whether he was a Federal officer and he first replied that he was, later retracting that statement and saying that he was a special detective of the Thompson Detective Agency of Winston-Salem, N. C. He refused to tell by whom he was employed. Thompson was also asked to give the number of the Ford car in which Ramsey was sitting and when pressed he gave the number as 76411.

It was later learned from the office of B. O. James that this number is on a car belonging to R. P. Bates, of Graham, Va., and that the car is an Overland and not a Ford. Ramsey then took the stand in his own behalf and testified that he officiated at two baseball games on August 12, the date of the alleged sale of the liquor; that during the first game, in the capacity of manager he had directed the play of his team and had been on the playing field the entire time; that during the second game he had been called upon to umpire and had been in that capacity.

A number of other men testified to that effect.

The testimony of Magistrate G. H. Franklin of Gretna, who was in the court room, but did not sit in the case as was stated by the detectives, was most interesting. He told of sitting in a car with Detective Thompson during the entire period of the games and that except for a period of ten minutes Dunn had been in the car also. He said that at one time during the game Dunn had left the car, was gone ten minutes and when he came back remained in the car for the rest of the games.

Numerous character witnesses were heard at the trial and these same witnesses were seen yesterday by a reporter of The Register. All of them said that Ramsey bore the highest reputation in Gretna and the surrounding country. And that he would be the last person in the town that they would suspect of selling liquor.

It was brought out that after the testimony Collie dismissed the warrant against Ramsey as unsustained by the evidence.

This brings the affair down to the time when it was alleged by the private detectives that threats were made against their lives by persons in and around the court room.

The trial was held in the office of Attorney Chas. D. Bell. This is located in a small storeroom on the main street of the city and would probably hold 20 to 30 people without crowding. In this connection it was pointed out today to the reporter where Ramsey had stood during the entire trial. There were only four chairs in the office. Two of these had been occupied by the two magistrates, one was used as a witness chair and in the other was seated Mrs. Dunn. This last chair was located in end on the room and the point where Ramsey was said to have stood by seven or eight witnesses was 15 feet from the chair. All of these witnesses stated that Ramsey never at any time got any closer than the ten feet to the woman and that he never had a chance to stick a gun in her ribs as told by the private detectives. It was also stated by a number of witnesses

WOMAN BLAMED BY HER FAMILY

Restless, irritable, nervous, excitable and exacting is the charge against her by those nearest and dearest. How little they realize the struggle the overworked wife and mother is making to keep about and perform the hundred and one duties that devolve upon her! Every hour her headaches, backaches and pains drag her down until she can stand it no longer. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored more women in this condition to health and happiness than any other medicine. The greatest letters we are continually publishing in this paper from women who have found health by its use prove it.—adv.

that the woman never took any notes during the proceedings as stated by the detectives.

It was stated that after the trial several persons were heard to express, in a gentlemanly manner, indignation that a warrant had been issued against Ramsey on such flimsy evidence as was developed at the trial.

It was also stated that the only action that approached disorder or came near to causing disorder was the course taken by Deputy Sheriff Tom Smith who, after the trial, ordered everybody out of the court room in a very rough tone of voice, repeating the order several times. Smith also went out on the street and ordered a group of men to move on. This was all said to have been done in a tactless manner. It was said, however, that nobody paid much attention to Smith.

All of the persons interviewed here today were emphatic in their statements that there was no threat or move of violence against the two detectives or the woman, either during or after the trial; that no one followed the three to the Virginia Hotel and that there were no drawn revolvers or armed guards as stated by the detectives. The citizens of Gretna feel that a great injustice has been done not only to Mr. Ramsey but to the town by the exaggerated account of the affair as given out to The Register.

INTERVIEW WITH THOMPSON AND DUNN

Death Car Driver Makes Confession

Baltimore Police Now Have Names of Bandits Who Staged Hold-Up and Murder.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 27.—Search for Joseph (Jack) Hart, the New York gunman, whose real name is said to be James Connelly, and Walter Cocolow, the 18-year-old Baltimore boy, was redoubled yesterday as the result of what purports to be the confession of one of the Hicks, Tase & Norris Company payroll bandits.

Every place frequented by these men, or likely to be visited by them, is under surveillance and their arrest is expected soon if they are in the city, according to Charles D. Gathier, Commissioner of police.

Hart and Cocolow are the only men implicated in the statement of Frank J. Allers, who says he himself drove the bandit car, that are not already in custody. Allers told his story to Robert F. Leach, Jr., State's Attorney, early yesterday in the bee. It is said that he could save his own skin at the expense of his comrades in the murder.

Homicidal Lust Alleged

Cocolow, who goes by the nickname of "Nolzy," stands out in the story told by Allers as a youth tormented by a homicidal lust. He, Allers declares, is the man who killed Mr. Norris, secretary of the company, standing over the crumpled body and firing three shots into it and then kicking it.

"Mr. Norris was killed just because Cocolow was bloodthirsty," said Charles H. Burns, captain of detectives. "There was no other reason for it."

"When this case is tried the department will be able to present testimony the like of which has not been heard here for many years. I am ready now to go before the grand jury with evidence against every man in the case."

Smith is the man who struck down Frederick W. Kuether, companion of Mr. Norris, according to Allers, whose narrative at last cleared up just how Friday morning's holdup was planned, where the bandits fled from the scene of the crime, and where they split up the $7,263 with which they escaped.

Tells of Search for Gang Leader

Following is the tale told by Captain Burns of the developments in the search for the gang:

The entire plot was arranged at meetings at Smith's apartments, 208 North Broadway. Here Hart and Cocolow also resided at the time. Edna Dorsch, one of the two women arrested last Sunday at Old Point Comfort, Va., was living there, known to the neighbors as Mrs. Smith. Friday morning the bandits met there again and got in the Hudson car, driven by Allers, which they had acquired for the purpose.

Car Seen Thursday Night

Men who were assigned to run down the movements of the automobile learned that a Hudson car with wire wheels had been seen Thursday night standing near Smith's home at 909 North Broadway. Heard is declared to have been the man who drove the car several times to the neighborhood of Broadway and Eager street.

"As to how the automobile came into the possession of Allers, we know all the details," said Captain Burns. "The use of this car was bargained for. It was arranged ahead of time that Hart and his accomplices should use the car owned by Heard. Heard was not in the car at the time of the holdup, but we know that he made a deal with one of the bandits for the use of his car.

Still Wrestling With the Strike

(By the Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Five to five mediating brotherhood chiefs and rail executives again faced each other today across the conference table in an attempt to test the possibility of settling the shopmen's strike. In some quarters the belief prevails that the railroad men are employing the plan of the United Mine Workers in signing up a sizeable number of bituminous operators at the Cleveland conference and expecting more to follow.

DETROIT, Aug. 25.—Further evidence of the Ford Motor company's intention to forestall competition is seen in the announcement that touring cars will hereafter be equipped with one man tops.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Early passage of the Capper-Tincher grain futures bill is looked upon as a foregone conclusion.

Effort Made To Blow Up Hotel

(By the Associated Press.)

ROODHOUSE, Ills., Aug. 25.—Federal deputy marshals are patrolling the railroad yards here this morning following an explosion which is believed to have been intended to wreck the Illinois Hotel, headquarters for the non-union Chicago Alton shop workers.

Indiana Has Heavy Storm

(By the Associated Press.)

LOUISVILLE, Ind., Aug. 25.—One dead, three injured, and considerable property damage was the toll of a terrific windstorm which swept part of Louisville and Jeffersonville, Indiana early today following a rain and an electrical disturbance.

Nationals Take Last 2 Towns

HUGHES OFF TO SOUTH AMERICA

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Charles E. Hughes, secretary of state, sailed today on the Pan America to return to Brazil which Emperor Dom Pedro made to the United States in 1876 and to visit the Brazilian centennial exposition.

"I am especially honored by the opportunity at this time to return on behalf of President Harding, the spirit which the liberal and benevolent emperor Dom Pedro paid us at the time of the centennial celebration in 1876," said Mr. Hughes. The present occasion is a most appropriate one for reviving memories of the past and for expressing anew our feelings of esteem and friendship for the Brazilian people."

Ambassador Allencar of Brazil, Consul General Lobo in New York and the entire New York Brazilian consulate were at the pier. The ship delayed almost 2 hours because Mr. Hughes was late in arriving, finally got away at 6 o'clock with tugs, ferries and small boats from the harbor and a small salute.

Mr. Hughes went Major General R. L. Bullard, commander of the department of the East, as military aide, Rear Admiral Carl Voregesang, commandant of the New York navy yard as naval aide and several secretaries and assistants. Mrs. Hilary Jones, wife of Admiral Jones, commandant of the Atlantic fleet now in South American waters was also a member of the water.

I WONDER

I wonder if ever a song was sung
But the singer's heart sang sweetest
I wonder if ever a rhyme was rung
But the thought surpassed the meter!
I wonder if ever a sculptor wrought
Till the cold stone echoed his ardent thought,
Or if a painter, with light and shade,
The dream of his inmost heart portrayed.
I wonder if ever a rose was found
And there might not be a fairer!
Or if a glittering gem was ground
And we dreamt not of a rarer!
Ah! never on earth shall we find the best!
But it waits for us in the land of rest!
And a perfect thing we shall never hold
Till we pass the portals of shining gold

Be Careful What You Wash Your Hair With

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle. The best thing to use is Mulsified cocoonut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get Mulsified will last the whole family.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful of Mulsified is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified—adv.

CERTAIN RELIEF FOR INDIGESTION

Indigestion and its attendant ills such as dyspepsia, heart-burn, sour stomach, griping pains, dysentery, diarrhoea, colic, cholera morbus, chronic constipation, gas, etc., and even sick, nervous headaches are now directly traceable to disorders in the digestive organs.

The food sours before it is fully digested, thus putting into solution toxic poisons that are absorbed into the system, irritating the intestines and setting up inflammation. To avoid this our simple have to prevent fermentation by using Anti-Ferment.

Anti-Ferment neutralizes the acid condition of the stomach, relaxes and sweetens the bowels, sores are increased, the flow of mucus is checked giving quick and certain relief. Get a bottle of Anti-Ferment, f. & f. our druggist with a guarantee of satisfactory results or money refunded. It will improve your appetite, give you restful sleep and make you feel better than you ever felt in your life—adv.

To Prevent Sea Disasters

C. S. Henslee, Chattanooga, Tenn., has invented a device to prevent sinking of ships which have been rammed or torpedoed. With the model he shows how a rubber-edged steel cap is drawn against the hole by the suction of the water, the row of cone-shaped cups acting as a guide.

Texas Run-Off Primary Saturday*Suffering From Lack Of Coal Is Certain To Come

DALLAS, Texas, Aug. 25.—The Ku Klux Klan, Federal Reserve Banking System, the Volstead act, transportation problems and rates and to a lesser degree attitude toward organized labor and farmers clearly have become issues in the Democratic campaign for the nomination for United States Senator from Texas. The second primary to finally name the party's nominee will be held next Saturday, August 26.

James E. Ferguson, former governor, has made known his friendliness to legalizing light wines and beer. He also has declared opposition to the Ku Klux Klan. Among his pleas for support is that he is a friend of organized labor and the farmers. He attacks his opponent, Earle B. Mayfield, a State railroad commissioner, charging that Mr. Mayfield is a Klansman, and has the support of members of that order. Mr. Mayfield maintains the Klan is not an issue.

Mr. Ferguson is antagonistic to the Federal Reserve Banking System and frequently, in his addresses, blames it for financial difficulties.

Mr. Mayfield has been stressing the transportation problems and rates as needing more attention from Congress than the Federal Reserve system. He declares the rates are too high, and that the rate making powers should be restored to the States.

Opening the campaign after the July 22 primary Mr. Ferguson confined his remarks concerning the Ku Klux Klan almost entirely toward Mr. Mayfield. Later in his campaign however, he asserted candidates seeking nomination for certain State offices had the support of the Klan, and suggested that voters opposed to the Klan should cast their ballots against the men he named. Among those thus attacked by Mr. Ferguson was Ed. R. Bentley, a candidate for the nomination for Superintendent of Public Instruction Anti-Klan votes should go to S. M. Morris of Travis county, and against Mr. Bentley, Ferguson asserted.

The August 26 primary, known as the "run off" will finally decide the nominees in those races in which no candidate received a majority of the total vote July 22.

In the Second, Ninth, Fourteenth and Seventeenth Congressional Districts no candidates received a majority July 22 but in the Second and Ninth, the second man announced he did not care to go into a run off race with the incumbents. Congressmen John C. Box and J. J. Mansfield, respectively, so there will be no further contests until the November elections in those districts.

In the Fourteenth District John H. Cunningham and Harry Hartzberg are the two candidates before the voters Aug. 26. The incomplete returns from the district showed less than 500 votes between them, with Cunningham in the lead. Hartzberg spoke against the Ku Klux Klan before the July 22 primary.

Congressman Thomas L. Blanton and Oscar Calloway are opponents in the Seventeenth district. At the July 22 primary Blanton received about 14,000 more votes than Mr. Calloway, but not a majority of the total.

LIEUTENANT REEVES IS KILLED IN PLANE CRASH RIVERSIDE, Aug. 24.—Lieutenant Reeves of San Diego was instantly killed and Clarence William Green, his mechanician, was perhaps fatally injured when their army airplane was caught in an air pocket while flying at Elsinore, near here today and plunged into Lake Elsinore in a nose dive.

REPLYING, Senator Cummins declared that it ought to be a crime for employees to strike when the government undertook to adjudicate for them the justice of a dispute. He added that "his opinion this was a final remedy for such conditions as those now existing."

"I do not think," he declared, "that our civilization can long endure if a body of artisans, embracing all in one industry, can leave their employment by concert and conspiracy at the same time. I would be the last man to take away the right to quit, to leave work, except when the government attempts to give those employees the justice they hoped to achieve."

GOVERNOR TAKES FRANK DUPREE CASE IN CHARGE

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 24.—Governor Hardwick today took under advisement an appeal for commutation of the death sentence of Frank DuPre, convicted of the murder on December 15, last, of Irby C. Walker, private detective. The governor announced that he desired to go over the entire court records of the case and that probably two or three days would be required before he could make a decision.

The "tea for clemency" was signed by 15,000 persons, it was stated, and was presented to the governor at a public meeting today in the Senate chamber at the state capital. For two hours Mr. Hardwick listened to the arguments for and against commutation of sentence, opponents of executive clemency stating that such a "tea" would do more to destroy law and order in Georgia than anything else. Persons seeking commutation contended that the youth was "criminally deficient" and that he "will not go unwhipped by justice," is stated by Solicitor General John C. Ropkin for the state, who he suggested to life imprisonment.

He was sentenced to be hanged on September 15. Appeals to the state Supreme court for a new trial were refused and the state court of criminal appeal refused last week to recommend executive clemency. His attorneys announced that should the governor refuse to intervene they will appeal to the federal court under habeas corpus proceedings.

Detective Walker was killed when he attempted to stop DuPre in his flight from a jewelry store after snatching a diamond from a tray. Graham West, city comptroller, who also was shot and seriously wounded by the youth, was among those opposing commutation of his sentence.

ITALIANS HELD FOR SMUGGLING

RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 24.—Ignazio Antinori and Giovanni Lito, charged with concealing or harboring foreigners unlawfully in this country with Louis Milian and Angelo

Cacciatori were today held for the federal grand jury. Milian and Cacciatori are also charged with harboring or concealing foreigners not entitled to be in the United States and bond for each was fixed at $5,000.

That Lito and Antinori will gain their liberty tomorrow is probable.

Counsel for the two prisoners said bond tomorrow was and have them released from the city jail. Counsel for Milian and Cacciatori will await the return of Circuit Judge Edmund Waddell to the city on September 5, and apply to him for reduction of the amount of the bond.

LAWRENCE, Mass., Aug. 24.—The Mononcass mills company announced today that beginning next Monday it would pay the rate of wages prevailing before the textile strike.

UNLAWFUL AID TO COMBAT FOREST FIRES IN STATES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Federal funds totaling $400,000 have been allotted to the government with the government in protecting forest lands from fire, the states being required to expend amounts at least equal to the amounts they receive, the forest service of the department of agriculture announced today.

Allotments to the states included: Virginia $12,250, North Carolina $12,600.

Piles

are usually due to straining when constipated. Nujol being a lubricant keeps the food waste soft and therefore prevents straining. Doctors prescribe Nujol because it not only soothes the suffering of piles but relieves the irritation, brings comfort and helps to remove them.

Nujol is a lubricant—not a medicine or laxative—so cannot gripe. Try it today.

HE DIDN'T KNOW WHO HE WAS

"Why, you might be anyone," said the girl he had met so strangely.

He wondered. He only knew he had been a white boy brought up by Indians in northern Michigan and that the Indians had given him a ring of old French design.

But the coat of arms of the ring was duplicated in the mysterious house on Resurrection Rock—that isle in Lake Huron.

Messages from the dead had sent him there. Then began a series of dramatic events, of psychic mystery, a climax in today's American business life of a tragedy which had begun years ago.

These men fought belligerently that "dead men tell no tales."

And now the dead were talking.

The great tale of mystery, adventure and psychic influence.

Mississippi Has Fine Sanitarium For Consumptives

MAGEE, Miss., Aug. 24.—The State of Mississippi will have ready for formal opening here on January 1, 1923, according to present plans, one of the most modern and commodious sanitariums for tubercular patients in the United States. When completed, it will have a capacity of 900 patients, and the buildings and equipments will represent an expenditure of something like $1,200,000.

The work was begun in 1918 and some of the buildings are already completed and in use. The entire plant, however, will not be finished for some time.

Accommodations will be provided for both white and colored patients. The principal buildings are the white infirmary, the service building, and nurses' home, power house, and laundry, negro infirmary and administration building, and provision is made for offices of the field service and extension department.

A farm of 338 acres is operated in connection with the sanitarium to provide fresh milk, eggs and other foodstuffs for the patients.

An idea of the extent of the plant may be gained from the size of the white infirmary. It is 531 feet long, 30 feet wide, with a central wing of 50 by 45 feet, which will care for 200 patients at one time, men on the south and women on the north. The structure contains 120 rooms for patients, 60 built in bath tubs, and 55 porches, in addition to the most modern equipment science has provided for the treatment of tuberculosis. The rooms are connected with the porches by folding glass doors.

The white building is claimed to be the most fireproof.

The service building is 249 feet by 129 feet, and is connected with the white infirmary, 130 feet away, by a tunnel through which the food will be carried for quick service to the patients. There are five dining rooms in the structure with a capacity of 120 seats. In the basement will be a bakery with a capacity of 500 loaves and 200 pies daily, an ice-cream freezer capable of 100 gallons daily, a cold storage plant, ice plant and other such essentials.

Work on the negro infirmary, which is planned to take care of 80 patients, is expected to begin next year.

Although a state institution, it is not conducted on a charity basis, but each patient is required to pay $5 a week in addition to laundry. Where he is unable to pay, it is usually paid by his county, municipality or church. No preference is shown to applicants, however, because of inability to pay. They are taken in on the basis of "first come, first served."

Approximately 1,500 patients are on the waiting list.

The extension department of the institution, through the co-operation of the state health service anti-tuberculosis association, clubs, health units, and physicians throughout Mississippi, accurately list the number and type of cases over the state at any time.

No Lack Of Help Says Harrison

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The shop and roundhouse forces of the Southern railway have been increased to 36 per cent. of normal since the company began recruiting August 15, and now has 1,165 shopmen at work. Fairfax Harrison, president of the system, said in a statement issued here tonight. He added that "there seems to be no lack of candidates" to fill the jobs. His statement follows:

"Since we began recruiting on August 15, the Southern railway has every day added to the skeleton force it had in its shops and roundhouses and now has all told 4,165 shopmen at work. This is 36 per cent. of a normal force, but what is more important, there are now at work 20 per cent. of normal roster of skilled craftsmen. All new men are rigidly examined for mechanical ability before they are employed, but there seems to be no lacking of candidates, especially since the failure of the last negotiation for a settlement of the strike. More new men will be added every other day."

GAUTEMALA HAS NEW GOVERNMENT

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 24.—The unionists in Guatemala have overthrown the government of Dr. José Arce, and the president is calling the country, says a dispatch wired by El Universal, Mexico. The correspondent says: "A general strike was declared in the capital, and the president was overthrown by the unionists."

The dispatch adds that Julio Ernesto Zeigler has been named provisional president.

Recent dispatches have indicated considerable unrest in Guatemala. Advances received in Washington August 23 were to the effect that the constitutional guarantees were suspended last Monday and martial law declared in certain parts of the country. It was added that the situation was to be under the control of the government.

Scoop's Column

PLEASANT GAP, Aug. 25.—(Grape-vine Wireless)—I have a little motor car. 'Tis the laptop of my eye. If you know me, you'll say guess the kind of car I buy. I rated like the very Dutch in the diamond bazaar, now you know what kind it is. You will not need to ask. I bought it second-hand, had it two years, more or less, and in that time it's been in almost every kind of mess. The top is patched, the cushions torn, the tires all wrapped with wire. It's been turned over 13 times, and twice it's been afire. In spring the hood's been lost for most six months, don't know where it is. I'm wonder torn completely off (I ran into a tree), the fan won't work, but I don't care, that doesn't bother me. For when she feels exactly right, and everything's in trim, she'll hit a speed of forty per, that's true, so help me, Jim! Every one knows the dear old bus for many miles around; and she's been stalled in each mud hole from my place into town. That's expensive keep me broke, and takes most all my yen if any gent should see the thing. I send her to the pen. But I am not at all afraid that such fate will befall her, for there is no one else but me can make her go at all. And not to get her started off is sometimes quite a task, she takes me there and brings me back, so what me could I ask?

When they find why and who paid the detectives' hotel bill the mystery will be more easily solved. Dr. Watson's investigation so far shows that Charham will sell more Poel Tobacco than Gretna, and maybe there is some rivalry involved in the controversy.

The RED HOUSE MYSTERY & AMILNE

"I could not stop Mark drinking," Gayley's letter went on. "But I kept him within certain bounds. Yes, I kept him outwardly decent; and perhaps now I was becoming like the cannibal who keeps his victim in good condition for his own ends. I used to gloat over Mark, thinking how utterly he was mine, morally, whatever way would give me most satisfaction. I had but to take my hand away from him and he looked up at me indignantly. 'Is there a joke?' he said coldly.

"I was just thinking," I said, "that it would be rather amusing if you well, had your revenge."

"My revenge? How do you mean?"

"Well, paid her back in her own coin."

"Do you mean try and frighten her?"

"No, no; but dressed up and pulled her leg a bit. Made her look a fool in front of the others. I

"I comforted him. I smoothed down his ruffled feathers. She had behaved very badly, but he was quite right; he must try not to show how much he disapproved of her. And of course she would never come again—that was obvious. And then suddenly I began to laugh. He looked up at me indignantly.

TOMB OF MARTYR DRAWS PILGRIMS

TOKIO, July 20.—The tomb of Tomogoro Fujita, who early this year, was returning, advanced to the Imperial palace, where he failed to petition the Emperor against what he deemed the grievances of the people, laid himself with a bomb, is visited. Many of many pilgrims, chiefly laborers. These pilgrims have laid a considerable amount of money on the tomb, which is to be devoted to the creation of a memorial to the "martyr."

KNIGHT IS FAVORED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Ferdinand Knight will be appointed to a few days as Postmaster at Alexandria, Va. Knight stood first on the eligible list which also contained the names of Jacob A. Eggborn and Thomas H. Bayne.

Congressman Slemp has left the Alexandria appointment to State Chairman Joseph Crupper, and Mr. Crupper's work appointment of Knight. The nomination will probably be sent to the Senate in a few days.

NEGRO IS CAPTURED

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 24.—William Powell, a negro wanted in Early county for the killing last April 7 of Deputy Sheriff Omar Howell, of Blakely, Ga., is in the custody of officers who are on their way home with the prisoner.

Rewards aggregating $1,250 had been offered for the negro's capture.

ASSASSIN OF COLLINS WILL JOIN NATIONALS

CORK, Aug. 24.—(By The Associated Press)—Tom Hales, who had accepted the responsibility for the ambush which killed Michael Collins, repudiated it today, drew down his arms and offered to join the national forces. Tom Hales is the brother of Sean Hales, a pro-treaty member of the Dail Eireann. The former has been a fierce opponent of the treaty, and it is not known whether his offer to join the national forces will be accepted.

He and his sister on last St. Patrick's day set fire to the platform at Bandon where a demonstration in favor of the treaty was being held under the auspices of his brother Sean and Canon Coohalan, parish priest of Bandon.

His present change of front is regarded as significant and as giving point to the prevailing belief that the death of Michael Collins may not have been in vain, as his action may stimulate his comrades to do likewise.

Sean Collins, proceeding from Cork yesterday, attended his brother's funeral and tried to experience. He was arrested on the Bandon-Macroom road by irregulars, who taunted him with lacking the courage to "stand up and be plugged" and spoke jubilantly of having "plugged McKeen, the traitor," referring to his brother Michael.

Sean Collins remained in custody over night but was released this morning, reaching here this evening. He left by special steamer for Dublin with General Erinn and Sean Hales.

SET DATE FOR FINAL CLOSING

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Acting Secretary Roosevelt today set the date for the final closing of the Charleston, S. C., navy yard for next November 1. It had been expected the yard would be closed about September 1, originally having been issued that it should be closed as soon as possible. Owing to the unemployment at Charleston, however, the acting secretary decided to defer the closing and provide for the gradual discharge of the employees.

In an order signed by Colonel Roosevelt, he said, the department's decision to close the yard "remains unchanged" in that the conditions which necessitated this decision have in no wise altered.

ACCIDENT TO STEAMER

CHERBOURGH, Aug. 24.—The Cunard Line Steamer Berengaria sailed for New York this evening with only three of her four screws working. The other screw was put out of commission through an accident on the east-bound voyage.

The steamer President Roosevelt, in a wireless dictated this evening, says she had met with a terrific storm and that her arrival at Cherbourg will be delayed for several hours.

Bye, Goloshes!*The Old Way And the New In Alaskan Journey

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Aug. 23.—All aboard, through train for the interior. Thus went out the white coated pony, standing with step in hand at the rear of the "Boundout" limited. Glancing along the train it is hard to be made up of express and baggage car, day coach, Pullman sleeper and an observation chair car.

It seems incongruous that this equipment is ready to dash through the heart of Alaska and bring up on the banks of the Tanana river, that mighty stream whose mere name conjured up visions of argonauts, dog teams of caribou and the old days when only strong men reached the Tanana.

On July 13 the through freight took the place of a mixed train operated heretofore and a regular bi-weekly passenger and freight service has been installed.

Travelers recall a trip over this route 10 years ago. It entailed a hard train that began to crawl along as it entered the Broad Pass country, where operation extended almost to the last rail laid. Then came the horse-drawn sleigh or dog-team to the next road-house at Summit, a bleak, desolate spot in winter, hemmed in by icy mountains and swept by wintry blasts. Overnight at the crude road-house and the trip was continued to Nenana, on the banks of the Tanana down a dangerous canyon where the dog sled clung to the perilous slopes.

The system of crossing the Tanana in winter on rails laid upon the ice soon will be supplanted by a 700 foot single steel suspension bridge which approaches well above the flood of the stream, the narrow gauge Tanana Valley "dinky" line will retreat before the oncoming of the mogul engine and its serpent-like string of modern equipment.

"Fairbanks" shouts the porter and Old Alaska has vanished, the great land of mystery along the Yukon becomes but a banal echo of something that has been, but is no more.

The change has been so sudden and so complete that the old-timers are finding it hard to readjust their lives to the new conditions. The railroad has wiped away the dog-team as a means of transportation to the interior, the horse-drawn sleigh over the Richardson highway from Dawson to the railroads, but tourist automobiles take the place of the stage in summer, and the railroads serve a country extending to Nome on the northwest and the Arctic slope to the north, north down the Tanana from Fairbanks to the Yukon and up the Yukon to Dawson—veritable adventure for the tourist who has absorbed the romance of the days of '98.

The old-timer says the Dawson days will come again, where, he is unable to state, but the lure of the "shoveling" ground beckons and as the railroads will be delayed for several hours.

FOSTER MAKES BAIL OF $5,000

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—William Z. Foster, arrested Wednesday in connection with a gathering of alleged radicals in Berrien county, Michigan, was released today on $5,000 bonds. Foster, who directed the 1919 steel strike and who was arrested on charges preferred under the provisions of Michigan's anti-syndicalist law, indicated he was prepared to resist any request from the governor of Michigan for extradition.

Chicago representatives of the department of justice who took part in the rounding up of 17 persons alleged to have attended the meeting in Michigan, indicated today that they were searching for Rose Pastor Stokes. They said they had no evidence that she participated in the Michigan meeting.

Watch Out!*Gretna Incident Probed At Scene

(Continued from Page Two.) made in perfect good order, without noise and without any threatening words on either side of the party, any one. Several who were interviewed stated that when the women got into the car which bore her to Chatham that she got in smiling and waved goodbye to a number of bystanders. It was said that W. T. Shelton and Dunn and his wife got into the leading car and that Thompson, Deputy Smith and State Prohibition Agent Finch were in the second car.

When asked whether anyone followed the detective to Chatham, Gretna stated emphatically that no one followed them and had no idea of following them.

There was a third car that did proceed at once to Chatham in the wake of the one bearing the detective. This car contained Magistrate Franklin, who went to Chatham on personal business; Magistrate R. C. Collier, Commonwealth's Attorney Rison and D. T. Williams, all of whom live in Chatham.

Later in the afternoon certain individuals went over to Chatham to confer with an attorney as to the advisability of swearing out a warrant against the detective for drinking and carousing while in Gretna and also for false arrest, but that the persons making up this party made no show of violence against the detective and their party.

It was said by several who were interviewed that if the detective left by the back door of the Hotel Berlin in Chatham it was because of a guilty conscience and not because of any threats of violence made against him.

The Register reporter in getting at the facts of the whole affair as set forth above was careful to interview only those persons who were present at the trial or at the ball game or who were vitally connected with the case. Every precaution was taken to eliminate anything in the nature of hearsay testimony.

TECHNICAL MEN ARE IN DEMAND

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 24.—The demand for engineers and technical men of almost every type has increased so much within the last month that many sections of the country are experiencing difficulty in filling vacancies, says the report of the employment department of the American Association of Engineers.

Largest activity has been displayed in the building industry with highway and municipal work progressing with added vigor, the report states. The demand for architectural and mechanical draftsmen and designers with building or plant experience has far exceeded the supply in almost all sections of the country.

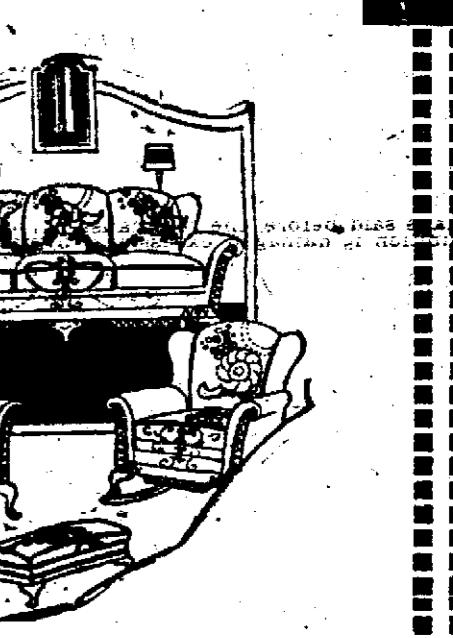

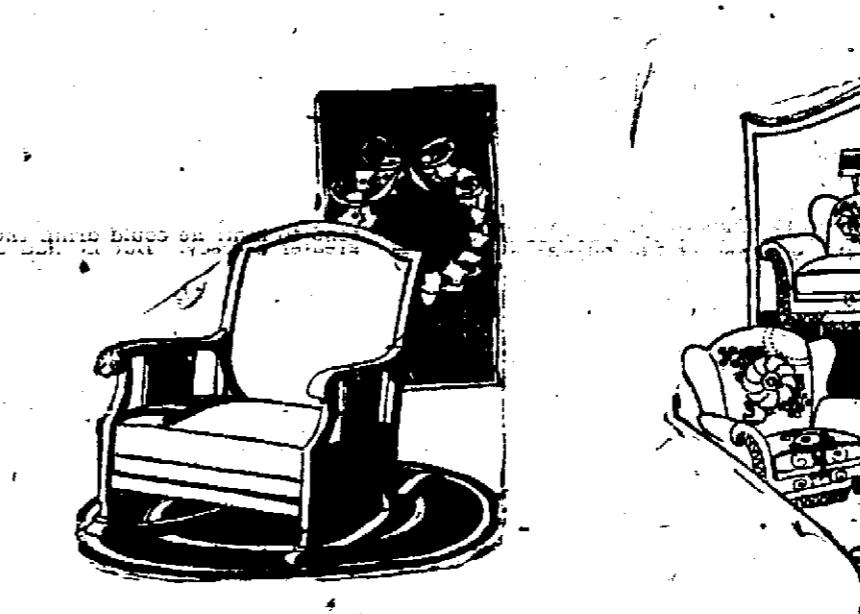

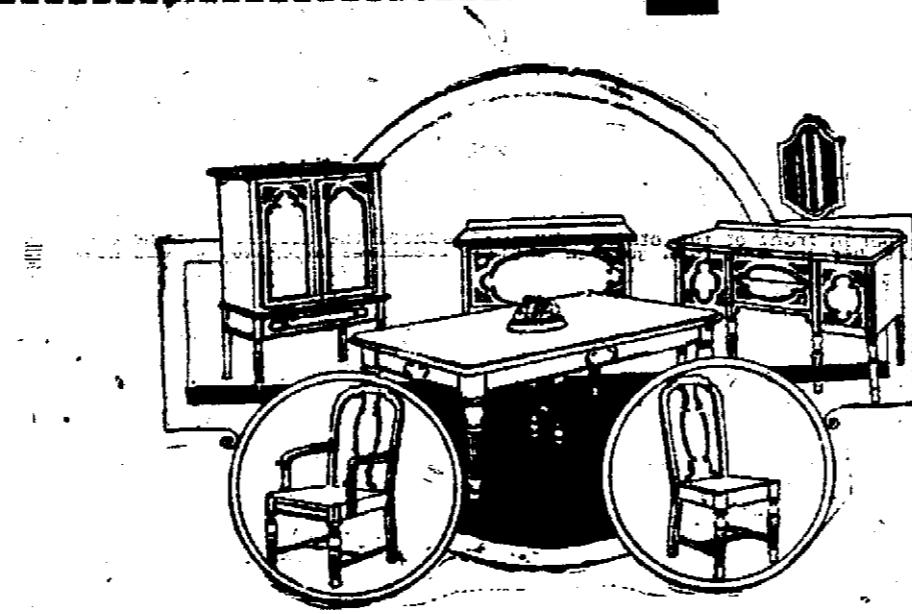

"While the general conditions are better at this time than they have been for more than two years, there is still some irregularity but the main trend shows improvement supported by prospects of further gain," the report continued. "Added reasons for a more hopeful feeling appear in the continued expansion of operations of the iron and steel industry, the diminishing of unemployment of skilled and unskilled labor and the active progression of building operation."

Shopmen Seek Settlement On All the Roads

SALISBURY, N.C., Aug. 24.—Striking shopmen of the Southern railway at Spencer are standing pat for a national agreement, and not a man of the 1,700 who left the shops on July 1 have left the ranks of the strikers, according to officials of the unions involved.

Picket work goes on unabated though most of the clubs carried by the pickets a few days ago have disappeared. Meanwhile, the shops are running full time and new recruits are being received daily, a contingent having arrived today. The railway officials claim their position is growing stronger daily, and that the shops are rapidly filling with new men. While trains are somewhat delayed, in some instances several hours, the movement holds up well and mails are making good time, according to railroad officials.

Woman's Life Saved By a Dog!

MRS. FLORENCE KESTER AND "COLLIE JIM"

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Aug. 27.—A faithful dog lying outside the door of a lonely mountain cabin, is credited with saving the life of Mrs. Florence Kester and bringing about the arrest of a man, accused of slaying her husband.

A snore from "Collie Jim," and the woman's quick wit drove the player away. And then Mrs. Kester, half-clothed, escaped by running barefooted in the night across three miles of the San Diego mountains to the main highway.

The man, fleeing because he thought the noise the dog made was the "husband" running from the clubbing he had received, was caught with the aid of the Scotch collie. He is in jail and is said to have confessed to the sensational "moonshine murder."

Police say the two men had been engaged in the illicit whisky traffic at the mountain cabin and that in a quarrel the man under arrest killed the husband, Tom Kester, by beating him over the head with a pick handle. Then he attacked the 20-year-old wife.

"Finally, I heard him breathing just outside the door. He was snoring like a human being. I thought for a moment how I could make the most of that. My husband was lying outside, dead."

"Then I thought if I could make that man believe Tom was coming back, I could escape. The dog gave me the very chance. I wanted until he gave a loud snore."

"Tom's coming back," I screamed.

"He heard the dog snore once—then he ran. At first I escaped across the mountains in my bare feet. I owe my life to this dog."

labor headquarters for the noon-day conference with shop craft leaders, the report said, current that some definite proposal was under consideration. Tonight, however, it was said that only tentative suggestions had been advanced and that negotiations were still in the discussion stage, with a poll by either side some way off.

The brotherhood chiefs, upon leaving the Yale Club this evening, returned to labor headquarters and were closeted until a late hour with Bert M. Jewell, spokesman for the strikers, and other shop craft leaders.

The course of today's debate, as far as it could be gleaned briefly, was this:

The committee of five executives representing the roads interested in the present negotiations presented a plan which they believe surmounted the seniority obstacle. While the plan was not divulged, it was understood to be that strikers should be taken back and permuted, through efficiency and merit, to regain their old rankings.

Whatever the proposal, it was said to have been regarded as too vague to be adopted when it was presented to the shop leaders by the mediators during the noon recess and the brotherhood men were sent back to obtain a more specific proposal.

During the afternoon session, it was reported, the mediators obtained certain assurances which it was believed might meet the requirements of strike leaders. The revised proposal, it was understood, was placed tonight before the shop craft heads, but whether or not it was considered sufficiently specific was not revealed.

Local executives, while reticent tonight, expressed belief that the rail strikers were employing the same plan utilized by the United Mine workers in their Cleveland agreement.

The miners, by signing up an effective percentage of operators, standardizing which they believe has ended the continuous strike. The opinion was expressed that the big hope, if they succeeded in getting the railroads interested in the present negotiations to enter into a settlement plan, to induce other roads to follow.

The brotherhood men, however, declined to outline the motives which had inspired them to suggest the possibility of individual settlements.

At the same time shop craft leaders, in informal comment, indicated that they were not in any mood to accept individual settlements. The one of these commentaries was that the brotherhood men had not been authorized to suggest abandonment of the "all for one and one for all" policy enunciated by the unions at the beginning of the strike.

Hints were dropped, after brotherhood chiefs had stated cryptically that "we now up to the shopmen that the mediators would find difficulty in winning them over to approval of any individual agreements."

When the mediators returned to

Government May Take Over and Run Coal Mines

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—(By The Associated Press)—Government operation of the coal mines and federal control of coal distribution in such a manner as to prevent profiteering were proposed in measures introduced today in the Senate. Other developments in the coal and rail situations included:

Decision by the Senate labor committee to substitute the Borah coal commission bill for the Winslow commission bill, passed yesterday by the House.

Demands in the Senate for prompt and drastic government action to end both the coal and rail strikes.

Announcement by Secretary Hoover that within a week daily bituminous coal production would be sufficient for the nation's needs, but that the country faced a shortage of freight cars which would be acute within a month.

A suggestion by Chairman Borah, of the Senate labor committee, that the authorities of other states follow the lead of Governor Miller of New York, in dealing with their local coal situations.

A declaration by Chairman Cummins of the Senate interstate commission committee, that Congress at its next session would take up industrial problems with a view to determining "what place unionism should occupy in the civilization of the United States."

A resolution empowering the president to take over and operate the mines was introduced by Senator Walsh, Democrat, Massachusetts, after a long and heated Senate debate, and was referred to the interstate commerce committee. To this same committee was sent an administration bill offered by Senator Cummins proposing to create a federal coal distribution agency, which, working through the interstate commerce commission, would control not only distribution of bituminous coal. Chairman Cummins called a meeting of his committee for Saturday to consider the administration measure.

The Senate is expected to act first on the Borah substitute for the Winslow bill, which Senator Borah plans to call up tomorrow. It proposes a commission of five members to investigate the whole coal industry and make recommendations to Congress. Senate leaders proceeded with predictions by some senators of dire distress over the country this winter. Secretary Hoover predicted a sharp increase in bituminous production next week, placing the probable output at 7,000,000 tons, as compared with 4,000,000 tons last week. He indicated, however, that serious transportation difficulties would be encountered in the movement of coal with the crisis reached within a month unless there should be a settlement made with the railroad strike.

The anthracite situation was regarded by the secretary of commerce as acute. With the mines tied up and little prospect of an immediate settlement of the strike he advised anthracite users to be prepared to burn substitutes next winter, asserting that provision probably would be made for the priority movement of such substitutes to householders over industries.
